VOL. CXXXVII.— No. 133. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, SATURDAY, JUNE 4, 1921. PRICE TWO CENTS

$1,500,000 IN GIFTS TO U. VA. ANNOUNCED

President Alderman Officiates at Centennial Graduation

PLEDGES U. ITS FUTURE

Honor Dr. Alderman for Aid Given Serbia—Alumni Associations Meet —Oppose Removal of Medical Dept.

Charlottesville, Va., June 4.—Gifts to the University of Virginia totaling $1,500,000, were announced at the graduation exercises here yesterday morning by President Edwin A. Alderman, who officiated and was the only speaker. One of the large gifts was $200,000 presented by Paul G. McIntire, of New York and Charlottesvile, to be used for the establishment of a department of commerce and finance.

Degrees were conferred upon 193 students of the five departments of the university the awarding of the professional degrees preceding the awarding of the academic degrees.

In his address Dr. Alderman declared that liberalism, faith in God and man, sound and varied learning and human co-operation were the cornerstones of the uinversity of the future.

"Without them," he warned, "democracy itself may become a tyranny more gross and rapacious than ever cursed society, and mere learning, as we ourselves have seen it, the sword of the cruel and the selfish intead of the torch of him who seeks the truth.

"I dare to declare to you my belief that the future of the university will not be unworthy of its past. The century that lies before us with its unimagined wealth of new truth and new aspirations and new entanglements will behold the University of Virginia, clothed in greater strength and beauty, standing, as of old, at the northern gateway of the South, embodying in its physical form and spiritual essence something of the note of romanticism, with its central quality of exaltation of personality, its deep loyalties and that balancing power of conservatism peculiar to the region out of which it sprang."

Dr. Rosalie Morton Slaughter, representing the King of Serbia, pinned the distingvished service order of St. Havar on the gown of President Alderman at commencement exercises as recognition of aid given Serbia by the university during the World War.

Earlier in the day at a meeting of th General Alumni Association, resolutions were unanimously adopted opposing the removal of the medical department of the university to Richmond. Dr. Hugh Hampton Young, of Baltimore, president of the General Alumni Association, presided.

The alumni expressed their opposition to the removal of the medical edpartment "as a step opposed to the interests of the tSate of Virginia, as injurious to the cause of medical attention, as destructive of the integrity of the University of Virginia and as violative of those principles of higher education, which, established by Thomas Jefferson, have received the sanction of time and exnerinece." Committees to fight the transfer of the medical school were provided for in the resolution.

$73,000,000 BULLION REPORTED FOUND IN CAVE

San Antonio, Texas, June 4.—After 10 years of ceaseless searching through the wildest portions of Northern Mexico, Adam Fischer, geological engineer, returned to his home here Friday and announced that he had finally located and laid claim to the famous Caballo Blanco treasure cave, in which he claims there is over $73,000,000 in gold and silver bullion and Spanish octagonal dollars stored. He is now awaiting a concession from the Mexican Government in order to bring his huge treasure out of the mountains.

The story of the gold and silver bars and Spanish dollars dates back to the early part of the nineteenth century, when a revolution against the Spanish rule in Mexico was in progress.

Spanish officers, fearing defeat, removed the bullion from the Treasury and concealed it in the cave in the heart of the Cerro de la Silla Mountains, near Monterey, in the State of Nuevo Leon.

Mountain bandit gangs attacked the returning Spanish officers and killed them.

An ancestor of a local family was captured during the revolution by the mountain bandits and held a captive in the famous cave where the stolen treasure was concealed. One day he was recognized by a bandit whose life he had saved and was permitted to escape.

On his deathbed he described the location of the treasure cave to Adam Fischer, his most intimate friend. Fischer spent years searching through old records in an effort to locate the hidden wealth and 10 years ago announced to his friends that he was going into Mexico to claim the wealth. Nothing was heard of him until he reappeared in this city Friday, announcing that his 10 year search had been successful.

Fischer claims there are 8,646 gold bars, valued at $5,000 each; 4,560 silver bars valued at $5,000 each, and $7,500,000 in old Spanish octagonal silver dollars concealed in the cave. He places a total valuation of $73,530,000 on the hidden wealth.

BOOST ATTENDANCE DURING HOT MONTHS

In Sunday Schools During June, July and August.

STARTS TOMORROW

Successful Campaign Last Summer Recalled — Average Attendance First Four Months Will be Basis

Alexandria is to have a Sunday School attendance campaign which will begin tomorrow and continue through June, July and August. This will be the second attendance campaign conducted by the schools of the city, the first being last year when the attendance of the Sunday schools was increased from thirty to one hundred per cent.

The campaign last year was entered into by every Sunday school in the city and each made wonderful gains. The most remarkable gains made by the schools was the week of August 21 when three schools passed the 200 per cent mark in their attendance. At the beginning of the campaign St. Paul's school led and it was a close competitor for first honors throughout the summer.

However the Second Baptist Sunday school quickly saw the advantages of a city wide campaign and the stimulus incident to it and proceeded to organize perfectly. They gradually passed one school after another until finally they secured first place which they maintained until the end, closing with a percentage of 269 over their attendance of the first four months of the year.

The attendance of the combined schools when the winter total was computed was 1212, while the final total was 1610, a gain of nearly 400. This gain over the winter attendance during the hot months of the year was considered truly remarkable and gained nation wide attention to Alexandria. Secretary Wallace of the Y. M. C. A. had requests from all over the country asking for details of the campaign.

The campaign starting tomorrow will be practically the same as that of last year. The average attendance for the first four months of the year will be the basis on which the future percentages are figured. The secretaries of the schools will furnish the Y. M. C. A. with the Sunday attendance each week and the average will be computed and the weekly standing of the schools published. The schools are already organizing for the campaign and last year's records are likely to fall.

Not a Bed of Roses.

In the matter of a soldier's bonus, the Republicans have made their bed and howsoever much they may wriggle and squirm they will have to lie in it. They took this question, which under no circumstances should be made a political issue, and in the last session of Congress framed a bill along party lines, clothed it with the partisanship of a party caucus and jammed it through the House of Representatives under gag party rule. Then they dropped it on the Senate doorsteps and two days later adjourned for the November elections, returning home to tell "the boys" what they had done for them in the House and would have done for them in the Senate but for lack of time. The election came and with it doubtless a big "soldier vote" to swell the Republican majorities. After election time, there was yet opportunity for the Senate to act on the bill which the House had passed before that Congress automatically expired on March 4; but Penrose and McCumber and the other Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee protracted hearings on the bill and reported it out in those pell-mell closing hours of the Sixty-Sixth Congress just late enough to permit a single Senator's objection to defeat action on the measure.

Regardless of estimated deficits of billions of dollars in the national Treasury during the next few years, regardless of the burden some high taxes under which the country is groaning and regardless of everything they may say and do, the Republicans are now finding that the political, vote-getting gesture they made on the eve of election to the soldier-vote must sooner or later be translated into some kind of action. They are afraid to face another election with millions of indignant betrayed ex-service people ready to cast a bloc vote against them. So there need be no surprise that Senator Penrose has appointed a subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee to take up immediately the question of a soldier's bonus and report a bill for action.

They are to be pitied. As one of them remarked, "We are equally certained to be damned; we will lose the soldier vote if we don't pass a bonus bill and we will lose an even greater vote of taxpayers and citizens generally if we do pass it." They flounder hopelessly and helplessly between the devil and the deep blue sea.

Standards and Better Standards.

Alexandrians in the government service will be interested in the testimony given before the joint committee of the House and Senate on reclassification yesterday. Many leading scientific and professional men employed by the government declared that administrative efficiency was being rendered almost impossible in the government departments by not only inadequate but unfair, discriminative and contradictory salaries paid government employees. This, they pointed out, was particularly true of highly skilled, educated and scientific workers for whom there is great demand in private businesses and enterprises outside of the government, and who leave the government service for more lucrative fields of endeavor just at the time when they reach the point of maximum use to the government.

There are two measures pending in Congress for a reclassification of government employees, the Sterling-Lehibach bill and the Smoot-Wood bill. With all the fuss and feathers about the matter, it is sincerely to be hoped that legislation will be evolved containing the best features of both bills and conducive to a simple, workable classification of government positions and the salaries they pay.

The War Race.

With all this talk about "the next war" and its sharply contrasting "it must not be again," it strikes home to us that the "next war" people are putting it over on the "never again" folks in a way that looks like a steam roller running rough-shod over a toy-wagon.

While the friends of peace rave aimlessly about disarmament, the nations are arming to the teeth, the United States of America among them.

And for what? for "the war" which, if it shall come, will be a catastrophe which not even the imagination of a Jules Verne could picture in all its ghastly horrors. Only yesterday Rear Admiral Robert S. Griffin, chief of the bureau of engineering of the United States Navy, announced that the United States Navy has perfected radio control which will enable the sending to sea of the "crewless vessel" and the shooting of a torpedo 3,000 miles. Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Embassador, has recently said that microbes and germs would be the instrumentalities of destruction employed in the warfare of the future. The discovery of a poisonous gas so deadly that a few fumes of it shot down from an airplane will destroy the population of a whole city has been made we are told.

While all the diabolical forces of the earth are contriving together to create new engines of death and desolution, peace-loving people sit with hands folded. And the one international agency set up in the history of mankind to stop war, the League of Nations, stumbles along as best it may without help or hope from the greatest, most powerful and most resourceful nation in the world.

A DAILY THOUGHT

There are two varieties of Snap. One of them is a powerful ingredient in the Success Retort. The other's a Shroud in which Ambition is buried beyond all hope of resuscitation.

The kind of Snap that gets you somewhere, makes you a business success, is nothing in the world but Mental Concentration.

We all realize that Mind largely controls our physical functions. The man whose mind is quick, alert, concentrated on the job and its problems, is bound to show a reflex in the lightning like speed of his physical activity.

But the possessor of a Soft Snap is beyond all aid. He is surely sinking in a morass of Mental Inactivity which will eventually engulf him. Slowly, but surely, his head will disappear below the industrial horizon.

The worst about a Soft Snap is that the victim lives in a false atmosphere, often of praise and adulation, which deceives his sleeping senses until it is too late to escape.

"Pull" lands many a man in a soft berth. Frequently the berth is mahogany equipped, with files, stenographers, messengers and all the customaries of a real job.

And sometimes "Pull" unwittingly elevates a Real Man into a Soft Perth. In which case things worth while happen—but usually quite different things from those in the minds of the manipulators of the elevating "Pull."

Acquire and develop Snap—Mental Snap, that studies, plans and acts vigorously and correctly—but fly from the poisonous invitation of the Soft Snap that smothers Ambition in its scented but deadly vapors.

LINE-STRADDLING HOUSE MAY LOSE ITS U. S. HALF

Washington, June 4.—The American half of the building straddling the Canadian border near Malone, N. Y., which was seized yesterday by customs officers after liquor had been found in it, may be torn down. What happens to the Canadian half does not matter, apparently, as officials said today solution of that particular international problem was "easy."

No report on the seizure had been received, but it was said that while unusual, the case was out unprecedented, buildings similarly located having been seized before now for various reasons.

German War Casualties Estimated 5,856,982 by U. S. Military Surgeon

Boston, June 4.—Germany's casualties in the World War were placed at 5,856,982 by Commander William S. Baisbridge, of the Naval Medical Corps, in an address here today before the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. The figure was determined, he said, through two years' service in Germany during the war as an observer and from the study of official and semi-official publications and statements in German, Dutch and Scandinavian magazines.

According to Commander Bainbridge's tabulations, the German losses were divided as follows:

Killed in battle, 1,531,148; missing, 991,340; wounded, 4,211,491; died of disease, 155,013.

FAMILY AND FORTUNE FOUND

Two college girls spending a holiday in Boston not long ago, saw a Salvation Army Lass resting on a park bench with her unsold "War Crys" in her lap.

"Let's go talk to her!" exclaimed the tall one. "No—let's buy her papers!" protested the short one. "I'll buy all of them, if you will agree to read one all of the way through," laughed Grace, the tall one.

Madge agreed, and the purchase was concluded. Back in their room at the hotel, Madge tried to beg off after she had read all but the "Missing Friends" Advertisements.

"Read every single line, as you promised," insisted Grace.

Suddenly Madge jumped up and held out the paper pointing to a photograph—"Look! Look! Grace that's the porter who carried our bags—sure as you are alive!" Both girls rushed downstairs, hunted up the porter and showed him their copy of the "War Cry" with his photo and the advertisement for news of him. It also appealed to him to return home if it should meet his eye.

The man admitted that he had been the family's blacksheep, had run away ten years before and had never written of his whereabouts.

Later information sent these girls disclosed the fact that the man thus put in touch with his people through their instrumentality, was of wealthy parentage and his return meant not only restoration to his people and station but almost put into his hands a considerable fortune.

This is only one of hundreds of cases of the missing—that are located by this, the most wonderful detective agency in the world.

Published in 48 languages to the extent of one million copies weekly, circulated in over 7,000 cities in seventy countries it reaches more people than any other publication.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Norfolk—Armed with necessary papers, a deputy United States marshal went aboard the Norwegian motor schooner General Pershing at the engineers' piers yesterday and removed the captain and members of the crew. The vessel was sold at auction last week, but the captain and crew refused to leave, claiming that nine months' wages were due them. The vessel was moved from her anchorage to a dock.

Winchester—Members of the Society of Friends, of Hopewell quarterly, are understood to view liberally the proposal to leave the matter of card playing, dancing and amusements to "self determination," rather than adhere to old time rules of conduct. Sentiment in this respect has crystalized, it is said, since the recent May meeting, the largest of the year in this section. Some of the Friends take the position that they are living in a new age, and that each member of the society is presumed to be capable of deciding for himself or herself whether they are trespassing on religious ethics when they play a social game, or dance the Virginia reel.

Luray—Luray and Page county yesterday eclipsed all records of road making in the state of Virginia, between 300 and 400 men, with hundreds of horses, scores of wagons and trucks, began work on the New Market and Sperryville turnpike, which runs the entire width of the county. There was concerted action, the force leaving a given point in Luray soon after daylight. They were distributed along the highway between Luray and the top of the Massanutton mountains, the dividing line between Page and Schnandoah counties. Under a burning, sunshie every business, profession and calling was represented in the solid phalanx that sought to put in immediate condition this road, which will be the line of the Lee highway between New York and New Orleans. Hundreds of men who had never before known the task of picking and shoveling earth worked with might and main all day in a sweltering sunshine. Preachers, lawyers and physicians donned over alls in the demonstration that Page county gave to the world what it could do when put on its mettle. With the male road workers occasionally an enthusiastic woman worker could be seen with her sleeve rolled up picking and shoveling.

Attorney Pleads Guilty of Misappropriations

Pittsburgh, June 4.— Attorney George W. Mulry, for many years prominent here, today pleaded guilty to padding the payroll of the Integrity Mutual Casualty Insurance Company of Chicago, by whom he was employed as adjuster and office manager, and to other misappropriations of funds, which is said to have entailed a loss of $5,000 to the company.

Judges Josiah Cohen, Marshall Brown and Charles H. Kline ordered that Mulry be paroled for two years and fixed an alternative sentence of two years in the workhouse for violation of his promise.

Mulry's wife, her face a brilliant scarlet from the humiliation of the occasion, appeared for her husband and stated that she had placed a legacy of $5,000 left her by her mother with the indemnity company that held Mulry's bond and exhibited a manuscript from the bonding company stating that they would not oppose a parole for her husband.

Mrs. Sauerhoff says that when she entered the hennery the rooster flew at her and spurred her on the arms. She threw up her arms to protect her face and received the rooster's spurs deep into the flesh, requiring the services of a physician to dres the wounds.

The Semi-Sport Hat

This is about the happiest combination yet brought out this season. It seemingly meets almost every need and can be worn with almost any costume.

The materials are georgette and taffeta. Some have georgette crowns, some with transparent brims and they are trimmed with flowers, some with ostrich feathers. All hats that are smart enough to wear with a sport costume, chic enough to wear with more dressy apparel.

We also are showing a splendid assortment of Italian Milan Hand-blocked Hats, body hats of oatmeal braid, which are, strictly speaking, true sport styles. These are trimmed with flowers and most of them underfaced with georgette.

SPORTS

Tomorow, Sunday, at 3 p. m., at the Dreadnaught Athletic field in upper King street, th big "D's" are schedrled to clash with the fast Maplewood Club from Baltimore, Md.

The visitors lineup which has here tofore been advertised is indicative of the class of baseball to be expect ed and is alone an invitation, for those seeking the highest type of amusement, to come out. They have a reputation of one of the best three baseball teams in the state and have a list of wins that's creditable to any team.

On the other hand the "D's' are in pink condition, and if official weather pronosications can be re lied on for Sunday, the season will he cherry-ripe for one of the n exciting contests of the season .

Snead or Alexander with Stevens, will form the "D's" battery, and both are in the winning stride. The coaches say the remainder of the line up cant be improved, so with every thing so rosy, what else but a good game can be looked for.

If you want good entertainment with the big crowd Sunday, come to the Dreadnaught Park, everybody is welcome, and there is room for all.

The Clarendon Athletic Club cancelled the game with the Cardinals to have been played in Clarendon tomorrow.

The Cardinals have booked the strong Emerald Athletic Club team, and the game will be played on the Alexandria High School field at 3 o'clock p. m.

Standing of the Teams

Team	W	L	Pct.
First Baptist	3	0	1000
Southern Methodist	1	1	500
Trinity M. E.	1	2	333
Second Baptist	0	2	000

Score yesterday—First Baptist 12; Trinity M. E. 10.

Game Wednesday, June 8—M. E. South vs. First Baptist.

The largest crowd except that of opening day witnessed the game of baseball between the First Baptist and Trinity M. E. teams in the Sunday school league at Baggett's field yesterday afternoon. And those that attended got their money's worth. 10 to 12 is some score but it was some game too.

The Trinity boys really deserved to win, but the breaks were not with them. Then they had opposition from the undisputed leaders of the league, which could easily upset any mere "deserves." Trinity started a new pitcher and he looked like the goods, but the Baptists failed to consider the goods and batted him from the box. Hall was his name and his relief was Upton. The catcher was Corsa.

The league leaders pitched Trenary and Martin caught and both performed in winning fashion. Both teams showed improvement but both teams can still improve. There is still some decidedly amateur work in all four teams of the league. They still overthrow first without excuse and frequently seem at a loss to know what to do with the ball when they get it, when this should all be figured out in their minds before they ever get it. Wait though, the season is young yet.

FEDERAL AGENTS ON PEGGY'S TRAIL

Chicago, June 4.—Peggy again is pictured as the artful schemer, Uncle Sam, this time, the hapless victim.

Agents from the department of the treasury are close on Peggy's trail to discover whether the $400,000 worth of jewels which Joyce purchased for her in France during the halcyon days of their honeymooning have been brought to the United States. if they have, trouble, and perhaps prison walls, will greet the former Follies girl.

When Peggy, her secretary, personal maid and Pomeranians tripped off the gangway of the American-bound steamship last October she made, so government agents state, the minimum declaration.

Special Treasury Agent A. P. Williams stated that government agents have checked up with Joyce and have found that nearly $500,000 worth of gems were purchased in England and France alone.

If Peggy brought home most of her jewels and wearing apparel which Joyce claims he bought her, the agents figure she owes the government about $300,000. With the 50 per cent penalty which is added in such cases, about $600,000 would now be due, and in addition she would face prosecution.

A diamond tiara valued at $50,000, a huge rope of perfectly matched pearls purchased for $70,000, a diamond pendant ,a bar pin and three foreign automobiles are among the properties which Peggy failed to mention in her declaration.

Tries to Chloroform Cat; Loses His Own Life Instead

Philadelphia, June 4.—Frank Souders, a Pennsylvania Railroad engineer, lost his life yesterday attempting to chloroform an aged pet cat at his home in Paoli while his family was away.

The cat scratched and struggled as he tried to hold a chloroform rag to its nose. Souders fell unconscious and died from the fumes. The cat ran away.

PROSECUTOR LEADS 'MOB' TO GET COURT RECORDS

Grand Island, Neb. June 4.—A group of persons described in a telegram received by District Judge Paine as a "mob," reported to have been led by County Attorney Farrish A. Reisner, seized the record of the County Clerk and Clerk of the District Court of Thomas County at Thedford, Neb. Ouster proceedings were said to have been demanded against Reisner at a meeting at Seneca, following conviction of County Treasurer J. L. Heilman, who was prosecuted by Reisner on a charge of embezzling county funds.

Judge Faine, instructed the Thomas county sheriff to maintain order.

An Announcement by The Studebaker Corporation of America

Eight months ago, when the costs of material and labor appeared to have reached their peak, we made substantial reductions in the prices of Studebaker cars. These reductions were in anticipation of our ability, after the turn of the year, to purchase materials and to fabricate them at lower costs.

The expected savings have been realized.

With them, other savings have been made, as a result of the greatly increased volume which Studebaker has this year enjoyed.

During the first five months of 1921, our volume of business has exceeded that of any other automobile manufacturer except Ford.

The Studebaker plants are running at capacity with unfilled orders on hand for over 7,000 cars.

In this quarter we shall produce 21,000 automobiles against 11,000 in the corresponding period of last year. This is an increase of approximately 100 per cent.

No other automobile manufacturer is making a comparable showing.

We believe that the confidence of the buying public, which has made and is making this record possible, will continue, because it is supported by the quality and value of our products, and these we shall uphold.

We expect that as a consequence the present economical and efficient production basis can be maintained and that we are justified in making further reductions in the prices of Studebaker cars.
